Speaker:

Viviane Reding

Former Vice-President of the European Commission, Member of the European Parliament

The quest for improved gender balance and diversity in the workplace has long been on the radar of the business world, and the EU institutions are no exception. Since 2010, the European Commission has introduced concrete measures that have resulted in better gender balance at senior management as well as at middle management and non-management levels.

Viviane Reding will share with us her unique experience as one of the pioneers of diversity policy at both the European Commission and the European Parliament. What are the challenges for the EU institutions and Europe as a whole in terms of getting the gender balance right?

Which actions help to ensure that diversity policies are implemented effectively? And what foundations must be in place to ensure a successful transition towards a more inclusive workplace?

All staff are welcome

Sandwich lunch will be provided after the seminar.
